

SundayGuardianLive

Cool Breeze: Say it with maths

By PRIYA SAHGAL | 25 September, 2016

 Like 12

 Tweet

 G+ 0

Say it with maths

Partying for a Cause

If the cause is right then it gets a strong support, more so if the ambience is right too. Last week, Rajasthan Chief Minister Vasundhara Raje was in the capital to launch a book on wildlife photographs clicked and compiled by Anjali and Jaissal Singh. Called Jawai the Land of the Leopard, the book has exquisite photographs of the big cat in its natural surrounding and the topic at the launch too was conservative tourism. The launch party held at the colonial Bikaner House was well attended, some credit for which surely must go to Jaissal's mother Malvika Singh. Priyanka Vadra, Sheila Dikshit, Renuka Chowdhury, Pavan Verma, Kiran Bedi, Neha Prasada (husband Jitin was away working hard in Uttar Pradesh), Mani Shankar Aiyar and Dilip Cherian were present for the launch.