On the 75th birthday of Sharmila Tagore, the entire Pataudi family went for a vacay to Ranthambore to spend some time close to nature. Saif Ali Khan, Kareena Kapoor Khan, Soha Ali Khan, Kunal Kemmu and Inaaya went on the short trip, just to be near Bollywood's Kashmir ki Kali. This place is Sharmila's favourite travel destination and she even celebrated her 70th birthday here too.

The family stayed at SUJAN Sher Bagh that caters to those who wish to explore nature in their custom made tents. If you want to plan a stay here, you can book a tent for yourself and enjoy the royalties along with nature. The cost of the room starts from Rs 55,000 per night that can go up to Rs 82,000 per night.

Earlier, Soha Ali Khan took to Instagram to wish her mother on her birthday. In the caption, she wrote, "I may not have seen Krishna the tigress this morning with @khemster2 but I got to put my arm around this tigress here."

On the legendary actress' birthday, Soha posted another photo with this caption, "Birthday pancakes!!"

SUJAN Sher Bagh is nestled on the borders of Ranthambore National Park. While focussing on eco-friendly and sustainable practices this place transports you to the 1920s, evoking life on safari during the heyday of the British Raj. Here you can enjoy campfires under starlit skies and enjoy the natural beauty of this place. This place is all about comfort, style and an unmatched commitment to conservation meet.
